

Course title: Different Dimensions of Educational Challenges – Adapting International

Lecturer: Jolanta Jonak, Prof.

Description

This course explores different dimensions of challenges in contemporary education. Students examine successful international educational practices, particularly from the U.S., and discuss how these strategies can be adapted to the Polish educational context. The workshops emphasize practical observation, analysis, and reflection, enabling students to develop recommendations that support inclusive, effective, and innovative learning environments.