

Title of course: (Dis)Ability – New Approach Towards Limitations

Lecturer: mgr Paulina Malinowska-Kowalczyk

Course description:

The classes are dedicated to a modern approach to the issue of disability.

Their aim is to show that limitations can serve as a starting point for development, creativity, systemic and social change, as well as to raise awareness about accessibility in various areas as a tool for creating an inclusive society.

Course topics include:

1. Learning about extraordinary figures from the world of people with disabilities:

Aaron Fotheringham, Monique van der Vorst, Natalia Partyka

2. Sport as a catalyst for life change among people with disabilities – the history of the paralympic movement, sport of the deaf, and the Special Olympics movement

3. Systemic solutions that reduce limitations resulting from disability.
